

User involvement through Disability Councils

Inge Storgaard Bonfils

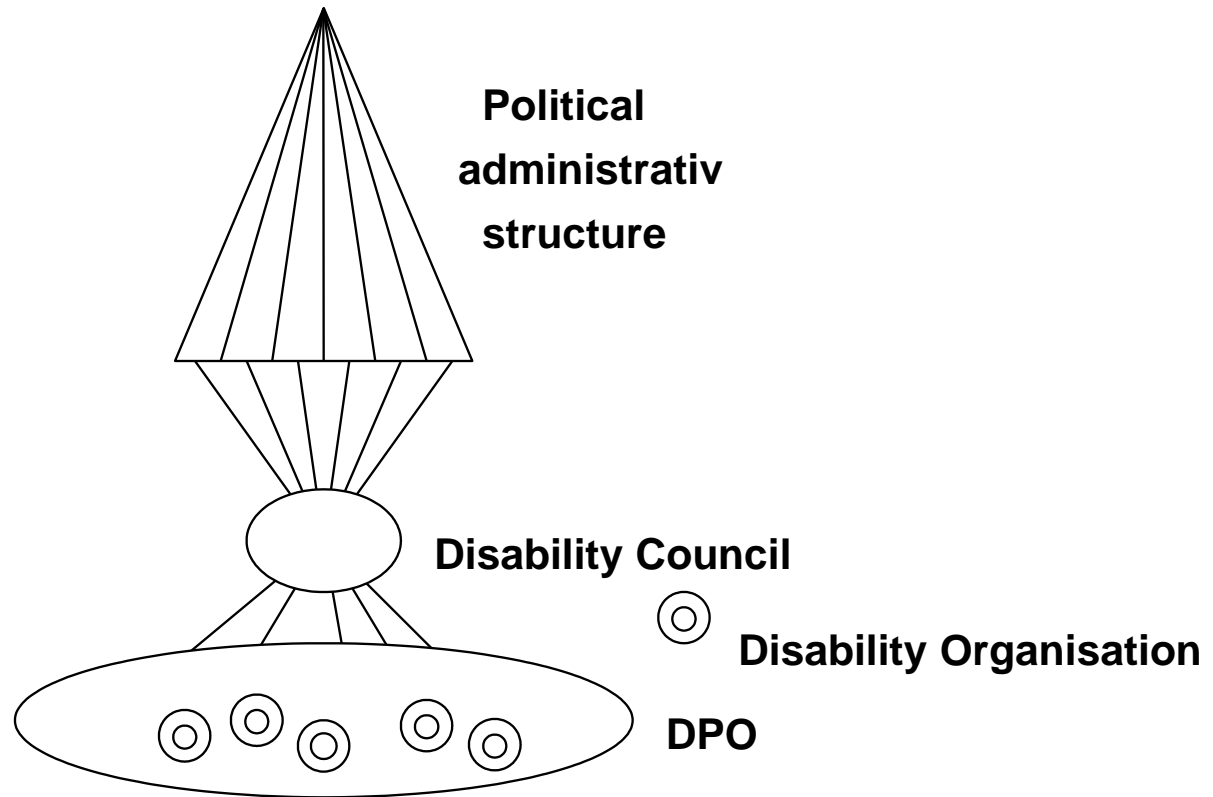

Forms of user involvement

- User involvement on an individual level
- User involvement as collective action

Experiences from Denmark

- From voluntary to compulsory disability councils
- Local government reform 2007
- Municipalities are responsible of financing and providing services for disabled persons

Local disability councils as networks

Opportunities and challenges

- The role of being an advisory body – a watchdog
- The need of coordinating the casework
- The promotion of a long-term strategy of development
