

Help and Services for the Perpetrators in Lithuania

dr. Rokas Uscila, dr. Vaidas Viršilas

Structure: who provides the services and who funds the services for perpetrators in Lithuania

The goal is systematic work with perpetrators, secondary prevention and correction of violent behavior

The most pressing issue in the area of perpetrator services in Lithuania

- Violence case management
- Implementation of approved behavior correction tools (programs)
- Assessment of the impact of the services and programs provided;
- There is no stable financing, it is mainly financed through project activities (especially NGOs)
- There are practically no post-intervention services for perpetrators

Can the same entity be responsible for both victim services and the perpetrator services? Yes or no? What are the potential benefits and challenges?

- Some institutions in Lithuania work this way.
- Some institutions in Lithuania oppose it.
- Here, the question of competence of the specialist providing the services is very important.
- Violence case management may be a compromise in this regard
